Employment

- | | |
|-----------|---|
| 17 - pres | Lecturer in Geographic Data Science, University of Leeds. Research proposes, evaluates and deploys visualization techniques in the analysis of large social science datasets. Methodological work published in the Information Visualization domain and applied work in the Transport, Political Science and Geography domains. Deputy Director of the Centre for Spatial Analysis and Policy (CSAP) research group and co-Leader of the LIDA Visualization Study Group. Teaching is on modules with an applied Data Science focus. For 2020-21 contribute to six PGT modules, module leader on three. |
| 14 - 17 | Research Fellow - giCentre, City, University of London. A €13m, four-year EU project involving academic and commercial partners across Europe. Responsible for contributing new research and software in spatial analysis for crime research. As well as publishing research outputs at IEEE VIS and VGTC Eurovis, designed visual analysis software prototypes. Contributed to teaching via guest lectures and lab assistance for modules in Data Science and Data Visualization. |
| 11 - 14 | PhD Researcher - giCentre, City, University of London. Recent advances in information visualization and data analytics were used to analyse and classify customer travel behaviours within the London Cycle Hire scheme. Work was presented at international academic and industry conferences, winning best paper at one leading conference, and research papers were published in four international academic journals. Tutored and guest lectured on undergraduate and postgraduate modules in Data Visualization and Research Methods. Delivered invited talks on data analytics to industry and academic audiences. |
| 10 - 11 | Senior Researcher - YouGov, London. Managed fieldwork, client relationships, data analysis and reporting for various customer insight projects. As well as developing and extending skills in data analysis, a substantial aspect of the role was around survey design and implementation: preparing and piloting scripts and monitoring response rates and making decisions about sample boosting when surveys were 'live'. Also introduced new chargeable analysis outputs – dashboard reporting for tracker projects and basic interactive graphics for client use. |

- 08 - 10 | Research Officer - Leicestershire County Council, Leicestershire. In an award-winning research team, managed and was the principal analyst on a large-scale evidence base commissioned by the council's Transport Department. Using current techniques within GIS and market research, the work considered factors such as access to services, local labour market efficiency and fear of crime on Leicestershire's public transport system. The project was featured in a leading international conference on data analysis. Also worked on various smaller economic insight research projects.
- 06 - 08 | Research Executive - QA Research, York. Graduate scheme in social and market research. Developed skills in both qualitative and quantitative research, presenting, report writing, sales/PR writing and project management.
